

From Antequera take the A343 towards Alora/Malaga. When to get to Valle de Abdalajis you enter the town with a venta restaurant Los Atanores on your left. Continue through the town passing the Repsol Petrol station on your left. Go down the hill and the road bends to the left and over a red and white metal bridge. Continue through a few bends and you come to a crossroads. Take the right turn down the hill (unfinished building on your right) until you come to a small park of trees. Just before the park, turn left onto a track. Stay on this track for approx 1Km going up the concrete section and at the top you will see a pair of metal gates. Go through these and immediately turn left into our drive.
